Action Plan for Improved Student Achievement

Board of Education
November 18, 2008
Jefferson Elementary School
Targets Met

- Demonstrated growth in API for our African-American subgroup (+23).
- Met 20 of 21 AYP targets for the 2007-2008 school year.
- Met 95% participation rate for both ELA and math
- Met school wide math proficiency
- Met AYP level by “safe-harbor” method for both our EL subgroup and Hispanic/Latino subgroup in ELA
Targets Not Met

- Hispanic/Latino subgroup declined 36 points
- Socio-economically disadvantaged students declined 27 points
- English learners declined 35 points
- We did not meet the proficiency level for English/Language Arts for our SED subgroup. We did however meet the AYP level by “safe-harbor” method for both our EL subgroup and Hispanic/Latino subgroup in ELA
Areas of Focus

- We identified the need to improve students’ level of reading comprehension.
- We identified the need to improve students’ level of writing.
- We also identified the need to improve our delivery of ELD instruction for all our EL students.
Planning Process

- Initially planning was conducted with the site Leadership team.

- The leadership team looked at the school data and the impact that corrective action would have on our school and program.

- The leadership team engaged smaller groups within grade level teams to generate areas for action.

- The feedback provided by grade level teams was compiled and shared at our full staff meeting.

- Ideas were generated about our program improvement addendum.

- These ideas were further discussed at subsequent staff meetings.

- Site principal met with the ELAC parents group and asked for feedback.
- This feedback was incorporated into the draft proposal that was presented to the teaching staff and further refined.
- The draft proposal was then voted on by secret ballot by certificated staff.
- The proposal was then presented to the newly elected SSC and approved.
Highlights of the Action Plan

- Restructuring of the current school day for first, second, and third grade students adding an additional 21.5 hours of instruction for all students and an additional 107.5 hours of targeted instructional minutes for all ELs and Title 1 students (Restructuring Committee to convene).
  - All students attend school from 8:10 – 2:00
  - Title I and English learner students stay for extended day instruction from 2:10 – 3:00
  - Teacher workday remains the same (8:10 – 3:00)
  - Student schedules change.
Highlights of the Action Plan

The addition of a computer lab teacher to:

- Provide standards-based technology instruction
- Reduce the student to adult ratio in the fourth and fifth grade classes thus allowing targeted intervention to be integrated into the instructional day.
Highlights of the Action Plan

- Common grade level planning time provided to teachers to:
  - Focus on reviewing student data
  - Plan common lessons
  - Plan the use of culturally relevant instructional strategies
  - Improve delivery of the standards-based instructional program
Monitoring and Accountability

- Accountability for collaborative planning time
- On-going review of benchmark assessments
- The implementation of student agendas/planners in the upper elementary grades to increase student/teacher communication.
- The agendas/planners will increase student accountability with school work and homework.

Targets Met

- Met 21 of 21 AYP targets
- Met AYP Participation rates for ELA and Math
- Met school wide AYP for ELA and Math
- ELL students met their target
- Asian students were their met
- Overall, every grade level did better in Math than Language Arts
Targets Not Met

- Hispanic students declined 28 points
- SED students declined 21 points
- African American students did not meet AYP percent proficient (note: not a statistically significant subgroup)
Areas of Focus

- English Language Arts, especially writing conventions
- Professional Development
- Focal subgroups (Latino, African American, SED students)
Planning Process

- September, Daniel Chaja gave a 90-minute presentation of STAR data to staff.
- He reviewed disaggregated data pointing out multiple ways of looking at the data (by ethnicity, by gender, by socioeconomics, by comparison studies, by similar school data, etc.).
- Teachers individually were asked to fill District’s Data Analysis, Reflection, and Action Plan Form. (Collected in October)
Planning Process

- In November, at grade level meeting, teachers synthesized their individual reflections of presentation into one grade level reflection and action plan. (Collected at the end of November)

- School Site Council and ELAC were shown again the schools state test data, shown teachers’ reflections and recommended actions. SSC discussed and approved recommended actions of grade levels and principal
Highlights of the Action Plan

- Professional Development for Teachers, Para Educators, and Site Leader
  - Equity lead team to provide training

Areas of Focus

- Academic Language
- Culturally Relevant Strategies
- Build structures to support:
  - on-going Parent Education
  - on-going data conversations, resulting from focal student plans, between teachers, principal and parents
  - a safe school climate
  - systematize action plans/support for long-term English Learners
Planning Process

- Process started last year, even before we realized that we had not met our goals.
- Administered survey to staff to determine the needs for Professional Development and how we were going to focus that PD.
- Reflected on the need for collaboration time to review data regularly, plan for focal students and lesson planning.
- We took those results to the SSC and the ELAC and incorporated their input into the action plan.
- This school year, the data was shared with the staff, the SSC and to the school community at a coffee klatch.
- We determined that our plans that we made last school year were still applicable to meeting our targets.
- Plan approved by School Site Council.
